Common Sense.

When the situation is thoroughly analyzed in its various ramifications with a look ahead to the possibilities that stretch out before the farming class and particularly the tobacco growers of this fair land of ours as a profitable diversion, there is no real occasion for distress of an enduring nature because of the back-set given by the collapse of the pool to the cultivation of tobacco, which has already and for too long a time engrossed the interests and endeavors of many farmers to the neglect of other crops and stock industries that would in the end prove more profitable and at the same time add to the joys and comforts of life.

Without discussing the merits or demerits of the tobacco pool, we feel safe in saying that the agitation of the question is causing unnecessary alarm and distrust. It is admitted that the tobacco crop is the source of considerable revenue, but real estate the basis and the source of all wealth, cannot be materially affected by a slight decline in the price of that crop. From the never came from the need of a chew of tobacco or a drink of whiskey. Many farmers, with fertile soil and good location, are bringing high prices than ever grown in the past. Again, it is true that land is increasing in value in states where tobacco cannot be grown. This proves that land values have increased from the fact that capital is seeking it as the best and the safest investment, and the additional fact that population is increasing, thereby creating a demand for it which enhances value as in any other commodity. We have a great variety of crops, by the cultivation of which many farmers have become wealthy, though they never cultivated tobacco, claiming that it is severe on the soil and requires attention all the year, thereby being very costly and causing the farm to be neglected and a loss to be incurred in other crops, fencing, etc. Many farmers turn their attention to corn, wheat, rye, timothy, clover, etc., which at the prices, yield a handsome profit. Many favor blue grass and all kinds of stock, including hogs, mules, sheep, Shorthorn and Jersey cattle, and horses, both common and thoroughbred, upon which many colossal fortunes have been made, while the soil has been preserved, with much less labor, trouble and annoyance. A careful study of conditions will convince anyone that the cultivation of tobacco is not necessary to insure the prosperity of the country and that the prices for that crop may be satisfactorily adjusted.—Harrington Herald.

All My Pimples Gone.

"I was ashamed of my face," writes Miss Minnie Picard of Alamahaw, N. C. "It was all full of pimples and scars, but after using D. D. D. Prescription I can say that now there is no sign of that Eczema, and that was three years ago."

D. D. D. has become so famous as a cure and instant relief in Eczema and all other serious skin diseases, that its value is sometimes overlooked in clearing up rash, pimples blackheads, and all other minor forms of skin impurities.

The fact is, that while D. D. D. is so penetrating that it strikes to the very root of Eczema or any other serious trouble, the soothing Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients are so carefully compounded there is cause for the skin made that can compare with this great house hold remedy for every kind of skin trouble.

D. D. D. is pleasant to use perfectly harmless to the most delicate skin, and absolutely reliable. A 25 cent bottle will give you positive proof of the wonderful effectiveness of this great remedy. Haydon & Robertson.

LEBANON LOCALS.

From The Falcon.

Mr. Floyd Wright, 30 years of age, son of Mr. John Wright, of the east end of this county, died at Lakeside Thursday night of last week, where he was being treated for epilepsy.

Mr. Hiram Tungate, a well known farmer, 55 years of age, died at his residence about eight miles south of Lebanon, Tuesday night, having suffered for several months of stomach trouble.

Miss Victoria Noel, daughter of Mr. W. B. Noel, who lives on the Springfield Pike about three miles from Lebanon, and Mr. Harlan Bland, a young farmer of Casey county, were married in Casey county Sunday. The marriage license was issued in this county as the bride was only 20 years of age.

Miss Mary Sallie Russell and Mr. Joe Lee Mattingly, of the St. Mary's section, were married at St. Charles church Monday morning. The bride is a pretty, attractive young lady, eighteen years of age, a daughter of Mr. Ken Russell.

Mr. Ben Ab Mattingly, and is a popular young farmer. Mr. Gabe Nor, 55 years of age, died near Bradfordsville yesterday morning from injuries received Monday afternoon. The funeral services and interment will be at Merrimac today. Mr. Noe was cutting down a large tree, which in falling, lodged in a tree near by. In dislodging the tree a limb broke and struck Noe on the head, inflicting injuries which resulted in his death. Mr. Noe was an industrious man and held in high esteem by all who knew him.

Capl. Bogardus again hits the Bull's Eye

This world famous rifle shot who holds the championship record of 60 pigeons in 10 consecutive shots is living at Lincoln, Ill. Recently interviewed, he says: "I suffered a long time with kidney and bladder trouble and used several well known kidney medicines, all of which gave me no relief until I started taking Foley Kidney Pills. Before I used Foley Kidney Pills I had severe backaches and pains in my kidneys with suppression and a cloudy urine. On arising in the morning I would get dull headaches. Now I have taken three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills and feel 100 per cent better. I am never bothered with my kidneys or bladder and again feel like my own self." Haydon & Robertson.

A Christmas Present That Means Something.

There is one especially good thing about a Christmas present of The Youth's Companion. It shows that the giver thought enough of you to give you something worth while.

It is easy to choose something costing a great deal more which is absolutely useless, but to choose a present costing only $1.75 that will provide a long year's entertainment, and the uplifting companionship of the wise and great, is no harder matter. There is one present, however, which does just that—The Youth's Companion.

If you want to know whether it is appropriate or welcome, just visit the home of some Companion subscriber on Companion day. Do not choose any Christmas present until you have examined The Companion. We will send you free sample copies and the beautiful Prospectus for 1911, telling something of how The Companion has recently been enlarged and improved.

The one to whom you give the subscription will receive free all the numbers of 1910 issued after the money is received; also the Companion's Art Calendar for 1911. Lithographed in twelve colors and old. These will be sent to reach the subscriber Christmas morning, if desired.

For Coughs and Colds
Troubled with a cough? A hard cold, bronchitis, or some chronic lung trouble? There is a medicine made for just these cases—Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Your doctor knows all about it. Ask him what he thinks of it. No medicine can ever take the place of your doctor. Keep in close touch with him, consult him frequently, trust him fully. No alcohol in this cough medicine. Dr. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

You, too, as giver of the subscription, will receive a copy of the Calendar.

The Tax of Bad Roads

In some sections of the country the cost of good roads is looked upon as prohibitive—the citizens fear to take on additional tax burdens. Few of these same citizens realize that they are paying for bad roads.

It requires taxation to build up good roads, but it also requires taxation to get along without them. There is direct taxation in the money spent for the maintenance of poor roads, which is often spent to no purpose whatever. Then there is the indirect tax, which like the constant drop which wears the hardest rock away—a tax continuing and ceaseless so long as the bad road exists.

The cost of good roads can be figured out with reasonable accuracy, but the cost of bad roads is something that defies computation; it is paid in too many ways and by too many people; but it is none the less persistent and unescapable. It is a serious mistake for any county or community to go along contentedly paying the tax of bad roads.—Courier-Journal.

The value of good roads does not stop with the decrease in the cost of transportation. One of the greatest values is in the increased value of farm lands. A good mile of turnpike road will probably cost $2,000, the farm land benefited by that mile of road will be increased in value $3,000. To put it in another way, the entire cost of constructing good roads is more than paid for in the increased value of land. The good road as a financial investment will yield better returns than anything the same amount of money can be put into. If the people would on once realize that the construction of good roads was an investment instead of an expenditure farmers would not be long stock in the mud. The United States census figures show that in Missouri and several other states that the rural population has increased only in counties which have built good roads and that those counties which have made no progress in road building are the ones which show the greatest decrease of population. The same situation will be found true in the matter of public school education. In Kentucky, for instance, it is known that there is practically no illiteracy along the turnpike roads but that ninety-five per cent of our illiterates live where the roads are bad.—E-Town News.

Reaching the Top
In any calling of life, demands a vigorous body and keen brain. Without health there is no success. But Electric Bites is the greatest health builder the world has ever known. It cures perfect action, stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, purifies and enriches the blood, tones and invigorates the whole system and enables you to stand the wear and tear of your daily work. After months of suffering from kidney trouble, writes W. M. Sherman, of Council Bluffs, Mo., "Three bottles of Electric Bites make me feel like a new man at 50." at Haydon & Robertson.

Paralysis Causes Death of Jack Thompson.

John B. Thompson, a prominent citizen of the Raywick neighborhood, who suffered a stroke of paralysis Monday evening, died at his home Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock. Mr. Thompson was 60 years of age at the time of his death. Funeral services will be held this morning at St. Joseph's church, after which the remains will be interred in St. Francis cemetery at Raywick. He leaves a wife and five children, four daughters and one son. Mr. Thompson was very popular and influential in the community in which he lived. Of a sunny and happy disposition, he was well liked by his neighbors and made friends easily. He was one of the few survivors of the terrible disaster that overtook the Federal steamship "Sultana," when nearly 1500 soldiers lost their lives in the Mississippi river by the sinking of the vessel near Vicksburg. A large number of acquaintances unite in extending to the family their sympathy in their loss. They have sustained—Lebanon Enterprise.

Turkeys Are Scarce.

Indications point to a scarcity of turkeys on the Thanksgiving market this year. Quite a number of LaRue county housewives have realized the trouble undergone in raising turkeys and turned their attention to more profitable work. As a result there will not be the usual large amount on the market this year. From present prices, however, it is thought they will range around the 20c mark on foot, while Thanksgiving day may find them bringing 25c dressed, about the average price.—LaRue County Herald.

NEW HIGH BRIDGE

Now Spans the Waters of the Kentucky River.

Early in 1911, the new High Bridge which is to span the Kentucky river on the Queen & Crescent Route will have been completed. It will be the highest bridge spanning a navigable stream on the American continent and is to be the most massive structure of its length and breadth known to the civilized world and will have a sustaining capacity of 7,000 tons. In the erection of this wonderful span, more than two million, two hundred thousand rivets and fourteen million pounds of tested steel are required. Almost two years were spent in manufacturing the great steel sections that are being combined to produce this marvelous product of American skill and genius. The old bridge, which has attracted sightseers of every nation is constructed of iron in weight one-fourth as massive as the steel of which the new bridge is being made.

On account of the superior material of the new structure it will have about five times the sustaining power of the old one. From the top of the rails of the new bridge to the water in the river below, the distance is 315 feet. It will require 140,000 pounds of steel rails and 2,000 tons to build the double track across the bridge which is 1,235 feet in length. Thousands of people are now being attracted to the scene to witness the building of a structure of the like of which exists now elsewhere on the American continent and it is fitting that this marvelous handiwork of man should have as its setting a landscape that is unrivaled in natural beauty and charm.

Picture-que Kentucky river, with its towering cliffs lifting themselves more than three hundred feet above the water line, is in full view from the train while passing over the bridge. At this point the winding stream has been denominated by tourists of all countries as the "Switzerland of the Western Hemisphere." The wonderful height and powerful strength of the connecting link of steel may be attained elsewhere, but the amazing picture which nature has painted for the background can never be approached in the scenery of human achievement.—Anderson News.

Secret Wedding Announced.

At a small gathering of friends at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dahring, last night, announcement was made of the marriage of Miss Bettie Dahring to Mr. Cleo Sherrill, which has been kept a secret for several weeks. While attending the State fair in Louisville they decided to get married and went to Scottsboro, Ind., on Sept. 12, the ceremony being pronounced by Rev. J. F. Ervin a Methodist preacher, of that city.

The bride is a handsome and popular young lady. She has been book-keeper for Adams & Wayne for some time. The groom came to Lebanon from Adair county, in September 1909, and has since been employed at McKnight's barber shop. By his genial bearing and steady industry in business, he has made many friends here.—Lebanon Falcon.

A Corn Crop.

The corn crop of Kentucky is by far the most profitable crop in the state and yet the state of Indiana raises more corn per acre than is grown in this state. There are several reasons why this crop is not at its best in Kentucky.

First because the ground put in corn is usually that which will not grow tobacco.

Second, the seed is not selected with care.

Third, the ground is not analyzed, properly fertilized and put in the proper state of cultivation.

Fourth, the crop is not planted with care, that it has the proper distance and then the proper cultivation.

A corn crop may be made as profitable as a tobacco crop, even more so when we consider the cost of cultivation of each and reckon the cost of properties taken out of the soil and the length of time required to put them back.

The crop in Kentucky averages one stalk in the hill with one ten ounce ear on each. This by proper cultivation and planting of proper seed can be increased to two stalks to the hill and a fourteen ounce ear upon each stalk, this would more than double the wealth of the corn crop and greatly increase the profit to the farmers in this state.—Owenton Democrat.

For More Than

Three Decades Foley's Honey and Tar has been a household favorite for coughs, colds and ailments of the throat, chest and lungs. Contains no opiates. Haydon & Robinson.

Little Nut People. Quiver little dolls may be made from various nuts. To make a "daddy doll" take a piece of white cloth and draw tightly over one end of a peanut nut, sewing the cloth tightly on the under side to prevent the nut from slipping out. When the part of the cloth extending under the nut is a little red sew this together, and for the arms make smaller rolls of cloth in the same way. Then sew the arms to the body. Gather the body a little above the middle. Sew on a white petticoat and make a single dress. Fold white neckerchief over the shoulders and put a face on the nut. A bonnet may be added if desired. Give a string bag body, other figure may be made with many different styles of dress. Youth's Companion.

A Queer Australian Bird. In Australia lives a member of the crow family called the white-winged stymph, which builds a mud nest in trees. Its arched and pointed beak is longer than its head, and its tail is rounded. Although the chongas which build mud nests live only in Australia, yet other birds of the same name are found in other parts of the world. It is easily tamed, extremely curious and differs as crows do. Its long hawklike claws enable it to cling easily to tree or rock, but it seems ungainly in the air. It feeds on insects, berries like rooks and feeds on insects, berries and grain.

The Cooling of the World.

All bodies in space are gradually approaching a temperature of absolute zero. It is taken out of a furnace and suspended in the air it parts with its heat and keeps on parting with it until it finally reaches the temperature surrounding it. And what happens to the cannon ball is happening to the sun. The sun is steadily losing its heat and contracting, and the same is true of the planets and of every other body in space. Just as the earth's life is ever approaching upon the remnant of the planets and of every other body in space. Just as the earth's life is ever approaching upon the remnant of the planets and of every other body in space. Just as the earth's life is ever approaching upon the remnant of the planets and of every other body in space.

A Modern Peer.

There is a story told of a French poet who inspired of a friend and datter who he thought of his last words. "I have arrived at a fifteen cent. he replied with enthusiasm, and think there is nothing more beautiful and beautiful in the language." "Fardon'ta, there is one thing," said the poet.

Testing Men.

"How would you feel, Charlie, if you and I were sailing down the stream of life together far away from here?"

"How far, George?"

"100, far away."

"I'd be so terribly homesick for mother!"

And from that night this young man ceased his visits—John's Legacy.

A Fruitful Time.

"Did Jack derive any fruit from the lecture?"

"Yes, sure he did. He met there a girl he knew and made a date with her, and she's a peach."—Baltimore American.

Moore's Air-Tight Heater

Does the Work of a Furnace!

It's by far the greatest heater on earth! Built on an entirely different principle than others. Heats by circulation instead of radiation.

One Moore's Air Tight Heater will heat your entire house—up stairs and down—and keep every floor as warm as though you had a furnace. It heats the air in the farthest room to the same temperature as the air in the same room as the stove.

Saves Over Half Your Coal Bill!

Moore's Air Tight Heater burns hard coal or the cheapest kind of slack, and can be run at less than half the cost of other heaters.

The Egg shaped Dome and Hot Air Plus Fireproof casing all the carbon in the coal, thus overcooking the smoke and soot substance as well as making the fuel last longer. There are no cinders and no cinders.

The Dust Flue takes all the dust and small ashes up the chimney, thus preventing them from collecting on the floor and furniture.

The Ashpan Apron keeps all ashes from falling on the floor when removing pan.

All parts are surface ground and fit together air tight. Nothing but expert work is used in mounting. It expands and contracts with the heat, so that the stove is perfectly air tight and under complete control at all times.

The Handsomest and Handiest Heater Ever Made!

Step in and let us show you the secret of our Open Rooster Casing and many other features we haven't room here to explain. Let us prove to you that one of these heaters will replace two or even three others and do better work than all combined.
